Sinda Fabrics

Sinda fabric is soft and supple and was designed to be breathable yet highly durable. It provides a realistic leather-like look with a subtle texture.

The composite material and 100% polyurethane resin coating make this fabric incontinence-resistant (or water-resistant), suitable for situations with light incontinence or where some degree of liquid protection is needed but not a complete barrier. It offers partial protection and may eventually saturate with liquid after prolonged or heavy exposure. Incontinence- or water-resistant products are often more breathable and comfortable.
